MINI-COMICS

MONSTER MUSEUM

THE VACUUM BEAST

His mighty suction is strong enough to pull in just about anything. He grows as he eats; when he's small, he feeds on animals, ash cans and automobiles. At his largest, whole skyscrapers have been known to disappear into his enormous snout!

THE VISE-JAWED MONSTER

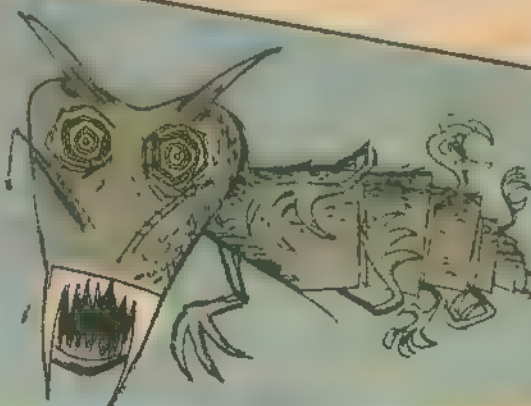

His jaws screw together like a powerful clamp. They can crush the hardest steel into dust!

THE SEA DEVIL

It is said that the Sea Devil's poisonous sting can kill the biggest whale. Nothing caught in its claws has ever been known to survive.

THE HYPNO-BUG

One of the largest insects known. Its glowing eyes instantly petrify its victims. Then the hungry mouth finishes them off!

Mother: Junior, what are you doing?

Junior: Feeding the monkeys half of my peanuts!

Mother: That is nice. You should share things with others, even with monkeys.

Junior: Yes, and I'm giving them the shells.

J. D. Robinson—Orlando, Fla

Susie: What runs after it has been caught?

Trudie: A woman's stocking!

Joy Monroe—Dimondale, Mich.

Billy: What did the necktie say to the hat?

Greg: You go on ahead, I'll hang around!

Susan Choc—Duluth, Minn.

Mary: Why is an old car like a baby?

Tim: Because it never goes anywhere without a rattle.

Elaine Thomason—Balboa, Canal Zone

Jimmy: I saw a man making a horse today!

Mother: Are you sure about that?

Jimmy: Well, he was nailing a foot on one!

Terry Darity—Macon, Ga.

Riddle: What possesses two banks yet it does not own a cent?

Answer: A river.

Dave Gorman—Royal Oaks, Mich

Riddle: Where do they send sick boats?

Answer: To the dock!

Bonnie Hassell—Burghill, Ohio

Tommy: Why did that cowboy's horse come to such a sudden stop?

Barry: Because it ran into In'gin trouble!

Robin Beane—Reading, Calif.

Mother: Everything is going up! I wish just one thing would come down!

Danny: Well, here's my report card!

Nancy Quam—Deforest, Wis.

Mary: What people make the best bookkeepers?

Jane: People who do not return the books that they borrow!

Linda Barrows—Westbrook, Maine

Frankie: Teacher, I don't want to scare you, but somebody is threatening you.

Teacher: Who?

Frankie: My father! He says if I don't get better marks somebody is going to get an awful spanking!

Cindy Peoples—Newark, Ohio

Riddle: How many sides are there to a barrel?

Answer: Two. The inside and the outside.

Mark Flanders—Cincinnati, Ohio

Sam: Why do you say your car is like a big goose?

Tony: Because it honks like one.

Jessie Scott—Waianae, Hawaii

Barbara: Which weighs less, a full moon or a half moon?

Jan: A full moon, because it's lighter!

David Babb—Midland, Texas

Linda: My father can't decide whether to get a cow or a tractor.

Kathie: He'd look silly ploughing his new farm with a cow.

Linda: He'd look sillier trying to milk a tractor.

Cathy Wood and Lynn Gard—Atlantic, Iowa

Will: Yippee! The teacher said we would have test today, rain or shine!

Bob: Then why are you so happy?

Will: Because it's snowing!

Julianne Walsh—Amelia, Va.

James: Why do you say it is hard to get a lot of work to do around your farm?

John: We have a goat that always butts in, that's why!

William Davis—New Orleans, La.

Jordan: What is a pup tent?

Gordan: A portable doghouse!

Joseph Lee—Willits, Calif.

Riddle: When does an Idaho potato change its nationality?

Answer: When it becomes French fries.

Arleen Levy—Brooklyn, N.Y.

Dan: What is the easiest way to make a fire with two sticks?

Stan: Make sure one of them is a match!

Cheryl Wilfang—Holtville, Calif.

Mick: What is the strongest day in the week?

Dick: Sunday, for the others are weekdays!

Terry Coen—Coffeeville, Kans.

Fern: I am going to the dentist's office.

Don: Oh, visiting a filling station, huh?

Barry Brown—Ames, Iowa

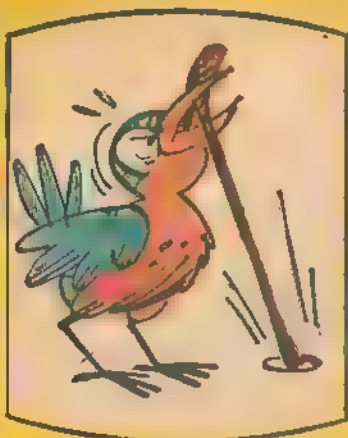

Riddle: What animal carries the heaviest load when it moves?

Answer: A snail. It carries its house on its back!

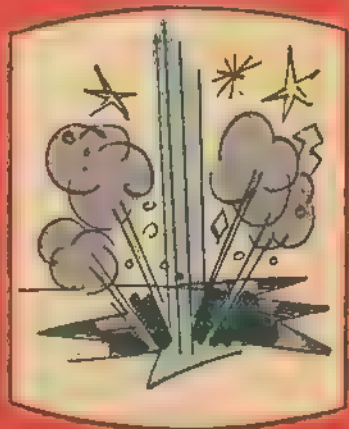

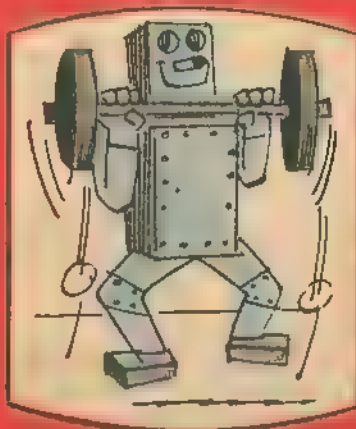

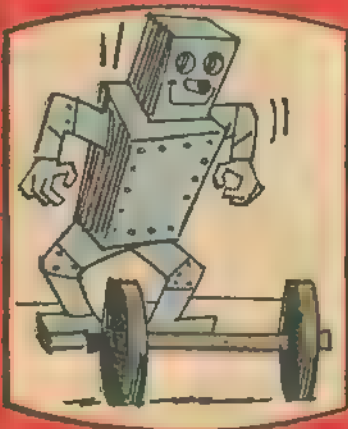

Goffrey McDermott—Bricktown, N.J.

Mother Octopus to Babysitter: Be sure you hold my baby's hand, hand, hand, hand, hand, hand, hand, hand when you take him out.

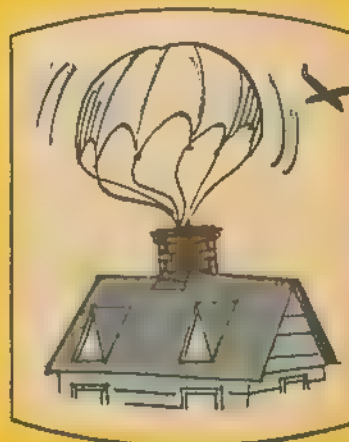

Mike Quimby—Centreville, Md.

G GRUNTS

© 1967 BY WESTERN PUBLISHING COMPANY, INC.

Grunts are small, tropical fish, with unusual markings. Their mouths are brightly colored. Many have horizontal stripes.

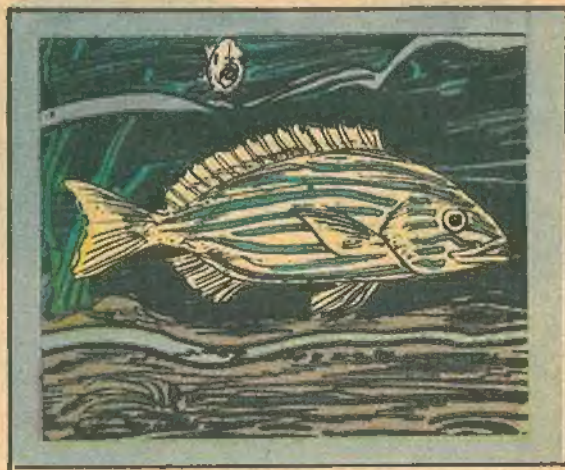

Grunts, common to Atlantic waters, favor shallow, sandy bottoms. They rarely exceed 4 lbs. in weight or lengths over 18 inches.

Grunts must have been named by someone with a sense of humor. The smallest fish is the Caesar. Most colorful is the Porkfish.

Curiously, there is also a Pigfish Grunt with diagonal stripes on its back. It is an important food fish in the Atlantic waters.

Other varieties are the White Grunt, found from the West Indies to the Carolinas, and Bluestripe, a handsome tasty specimen.

HUCKLEBERRY HOUND'S MYSTERY BOARD

This is your swami-type friend, Huckleberry Hound, telling you about the slickest trick ever to come out of a collection of numbers. First, ask a friend to pick a number from 1 through 30, without telling what the number is. Then, have your friend show you what column or columns his number appears in. Now, tell him what number he picked by adding the number at the top of each column he selected. If he named columns H, U, and D, add 8, 4, and 1. Sure enough, you get his number — 13. Of course, you should keep these directions secret so that you can amaze and daze all your friends with your mystic powers.
